

KATHLEEN CONOVER'S MATERIALS LIST

Welcome to my class. I am always excited to meet new artists and SHARE ART! This is a high-energy few days. I cover a lot of information and I am sure you don't want to miss a thing so, PLEASE, bring basic supplies you regularly use and ALL the MUST-HAVE items below.

Cheap Joe's Catalog (CheapJoes.com or 800-227-2788) will have everything you need and the "house brands" (American Journey Watercolors, Golden Fleece Brushes and Kilimanjaro Paper) are fine quality products, especially on a budget. The first day is the messiest and busiest so, please, wear your old painting clothes, disposable gloves and bring all your materials, below.

MUST-HAVE

- watercolor paper: 12 quarter-sheets, approx. 11" x15" each, of watercolor paper.
I prefer Arches or Kilimanjaro 140# cold press. Paper from "blocks" is fine.
- paints: watercolor in tube or liquid, (not dry pans), any brand, and acrylic paints if you normally use them.
- acrylic products: 4ozs. Matte Medium (this is clear) AND 4ozs. white gesso (pourable)
- brushes: a variety including one 2" wide brush
- sketchbook and a few sheets of tracing paper
- a few old watercolor paintings to recycle
- misc.: scissors, and white chalk, clear packaging tape, glue stick
- containers: spray bottle and a large container for water, 6- wide mouth containers with lids
(like 16 oz. cottage cheese containers)
- paper towels, Kleenex or napkins
- applicators and textures: (be creative here): sponge, stamps, stencils, scrapers (old credit cards, etc.), bubble wrap...you get the idea
- 11x14" cut mat to make "L's" or "crop bars" (or bring some you already have)
- small stack of newspapers and one old magazine

OPTIONAL BUT WONDERFUL

- reference materials: of imagery IF you want to include it in your paintings (total non-objective is great)
- a board (slightly larger than your paper) for supporting and weighting paper
- sketches, thoughts for themes or concepts to explore
- Prismacolor felt markers: one 50% grey, one black (for fast value studies)

DON'T FORGET - your enthusiasm and a sense of adventure.

LEAVE AT HOME - preconceptions, self-doubt and fear.

See a 3 part You Tube video of my teaching on my website in the "workshop" gallery.

I'll see you soon. In the meantime keep those paint brushes wet,
